LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. Levey has a cash sale at ten o'clock this morning.

The Advertiser is infected with the Samoan craze.

The roar of the surf last night indicated heavy seas.

There was no business in Supreme Court Chambers yesterday.

Col. M. Thompson has our thanks for a variety of Eastern papers.

The athletic sports at Makiki begin at one o'clock this afternoon.

The Honolulu Rifles' drill was deferred from last night till Monday night.

The telephone wires of both companies worked very well throughout the storm.

The Y. M. C. A. temperance meeting will be held in Fowler's yard as usual this evening.

Mr. Lyons will sell plants, etc., at noon to-day, as the weather prevented the sale yesterday.

There will be meetings to-day of the Hawaiian Railroad Co. and the Kahului Railroad Co.

The street railroad is again looming up, according to rumor, as certainly to go on in the near future.

Mr. E. W. Tucker put lots of his smoke-consuming devices in land and sea furnaces at the Coast.

After to-day the next piece of jubilation will be the ahaaina, or feasting bout, in the Palace grounds.

A petition for dissolution from the East Maui Plantation Company is before the Minister of Interior.

Hon. H. A. Widemann's eyes have been much improved by the treatment undergone for their benefit abroad.

Noonday meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 12:25 to-day. Topic—"A Merchandise that is better than Silver."

There were signs of clearing up at midnight, but signs are not to be taken while the rainy season has its inning.

Hon. G. W. Macfarlane, who was indisposed after returning from the Coast, was all right again yesterday.

The allegorical procession will take place at nine this morning, barring extraordinary elemental disturbance.

The King has distributed among charitable institutions a portion of the provisions given him on his birthday.

Prof. Yarnold desires a meeting of Fort-street Church choir for practice, punctually at seven o'clock this evening.

The Station slate last night contained two charges of assault and battery, three of preventing justice and two of deserting contract service.

A portion of the King street sidewalk near the bridge should be repaired in the procession to-day, to show how Honolulu has not progressed.

It is Edward Macfie who is to be married next week, not the gentleman of the same surname stated in yesterday's issue, who is married already.

Mr. E. Godfrey, who got it up, reports a demand for the official programme of the regatta for the foreign mails, which the supply was not sufficient to meet.

The DAILY HERALD with the report of festivities on the 16th and 17th, or any other recent number, can be got for the Australia's mails at the publishing office and bookstores.

Next week Mr. Wm. Foster, Master of the Supreme Court, will take evidence in Wood vs. Dillingham, on which to base his report on the value of improvements put on the property by defendant.

A squealing of pigs piercing the midnight air last night suggests fresh genealogical discoveries—perhaps some mellow remains of ancient Hawaiian knights washed down from mountain caves by the freshest.

The sister steamships Australia and Zealandia will be in Honolulu harbor for the first time, at least since coming under the Hawaiian flag, when the Australia, due to-day, arrives from the Colonies en route to San Francisco.

Nuuanu stream was at a flood yesterday from the freshest. Doubtless gardeners along the banks suffered heavily. Out Waikiki way cultivated grounds were under water, the extensive banana patches suffering heavily. The road was not overflowed any where.

The Billiard Match.

The pin pool match between Morris and McCleery last night resulted in victory for Morris, his opponent being two games behind of the 25 up. Mr. B. Ordenstein was referee and Mr. J. J. Levey scorer. When McCleery was 22 he could have won the match by one game, there being a "burst" against Morris, but he bursted instead of scoring. Both made shots during the evening which were heartily applauded for their skill. At the close of the match Morris made a proposition to McCleery for a match to-night, offering heavy odds and giving him till noon to-day to decide.

Splendid Harness.

Mr. Hammer has just completed a set of truck harness for Mr. Peck, drayman, which, it is safe to say, has never been equalled in any imported or home-made work of the kind in this Kingdom. Everything about this harness is designed for durability, while elegance is not omitted. It belongs to an equipage, horses included, that is valued at about one thousand dollars, and which will be the cynosure of all draymen's eyes when it appears on the streets. The truck was made at the Hawaiian Carriage Company's factory, while the horses are Californian. Mr. Hammer's share of the outfit will speak for itself when it comes before the public gaze. It is calculated to stand the wear and tear of seven or eight years.

SIDE LIGHTS.

Santa Claus' Headquarters will soon bristle with its usual excellent assortment of Books, Toys and Holiday Novelties. Mr. Thrum having received his supply for the same by the Zealandia.

West, Dow & Co. have received a large invoice of Furniture, Picture Mouldings, Fancy Goods, Music Goods, Xmas Cards and Toys ex Zealandia, which will be ready for sale in a few days.

She Was Willing.

They were sitting in the parlor gazing into the red heart of the anthracite which glowed in the grate, when taking her hand and squeezing it tenderly, he asked, in the poetical language that lovers often use, "Are you willing darling, that we should drift down the stream of life together?" "Oh!" she exclaimed, somewhat impatiently, "we have had enough of drifting matches lately. If you want me to marry you say so."

Darkness.

Two lamps at the Government building were not lit last night. There was no lamp lit on Emma street or on Likelike street. The lamp at the Hawaiian Stables, King street; the one at Hon. Asa Kaulia's, Merchant street; one of the Likelike street lamps; the one at the corner of King and Maunakea streets, and that on South street were all dark. Such were the police reports up to 2:30 this morning, and all the patrols had not reported.

Police Court.

Yesterday Wm. Harbottle and A. Giew were convicted, before Judge Bickerton, of assault and battery, and fined $7.20 each including costs. Poo-hane, drunk, forfeited $6. Mats, Japanese, assault with a dangerous weapon on a fellow countryman, $11.30 fine and costs, with one month at hard labor.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Thanksgiving Praise Service.

The Fort-street Church choir will give their annual Thanksgiving Praise Service Sunday evening, weather permitting. In addition to the congregational music the following pieces will be given:

1. Instrumental voluntary, organ, piano and violin, "Nocturne," by Mendelssohn.
2. Sentence, "O Lord, how manifold," by Barnaby.
3. Anthem, "We Shall Dwell in the Land," by Stainer.
4. Response, soprano solo with violin, piano and organ accompaniment, "Father Almighty," by Faure.

Should the present storm continue over the Sabbath this praise service will be postponed one week and the evening service omitted. The usual morning service with sermon by the pastor. All are invited.

The services for the Bethel Union congregation at the Lyceum to-morrow will be as follows: Sunday school at 9:45. Lesson, "Walking in the Light." John 1:5; 2:6. Services with preaching by Rev. E. C. Oggel, the pastor, at 11 o'clock. The morning subject will be the Tenth Commandment; or, "Covetousness." At the evening service at half-past eight o'clock the subject will be, "Quails." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The Bishop's congregation of the Anglican Cathedral will have Morning prayer with sermon at 9:30 A. M.; Sunday school at 10:45 A. M. Hawaiian evensong at 3:30; English evensong at 6 P. M.

The second Anglican congregation will have Morning prayer with sermon at 11:15 A. M.; Evening service at 7:30 P. M.; Sunday school at 10 A. M. Rev. Geo. Wallace, pastor.

The Roman Catholic Cathedral will have high mass at 10 A. M., and benediction of the blessed sacrament at 4 P. M.

Y. M. C. A.—Young Men's Class for Bible study in the parlor at 9:45 A. M., conducted by the General Secretary. Gospel praise service at 6:30 P. M. The General Secretary will conduct the evening service and give a talk on the international work of the Young Men's Christian Association. A collection will be taken up for the same. Welcome to all.

POPULAR SCIENCE.

Experiments conducted in Munich go to show that rusting prolongs rather than shortens the life of a zinc roof.

Imagine a globe thirteen feet in diameter filled with a liquid, hot matter; and with a solid crust only one inch thick; and this would represent, comparatively, the earth with its fifty miles of crust and nearly eight thousand miles of interior.

Dr. C. Keller of Zurich finds reason for believing that spiders destroy more aphides and insect enemies of trees than do all the insect-eating birds. His views have been verified by observations on coniferous trees, a few broad-leaved trees and apple trees.

Herr L. Solenche, London journals state, having shown experimentally that the friction of ice and water results in the positive electrification of ice, and consequent negative electrification of water, considers it probable that the friction of cumulus and cirrus clouds may be sufficient to account for thunderstorms.

"Grape cure" is practised in France and Germany in the autumn, and is regarded as a cure for many diseases due to high feeding. The patient is given a pound of grapes to eat the first day. This amount is added to until the person can eat five or six pounds a day. The other food is gradually lessened, and the diet at last consists entirely of grapes. It cures obesity and many other complaints, and starts the person off on a new lease of life. Fruit is a necessity in a rational diet, and of immense value in dietetic medicine.

A rather novel method of applying an electric current to the body forms the subject granted to the agent of Senor Pumariega of Avila, Spain. The inventor steeps flannel in a bath composed of equal parts of oxide of iron, copper, zinc and tin mixed in fine powder in weak gum water. The flannel thus takes up a quantity of the metallic oxides which are excited by the perspiration of the body, which is thus subjected to a weak but constant electric current.

A new disinfecting compound for purifying the atmosphere of the sick room has just been presented to the Berlin Medical Society. Oils of rosemary, lavender and thyme, in the proportion of 10, 2½ and 2½ parts respectively, are mixed with nitric acid in the proportion of 30 to 1½. The bottle should be shaken before using, and a sponge saturated with the compound and left to diffuse by evaporation. Simple as it is, the vapor of this compound is said to possess extraordinary properties in controlling the odors and effluvia of offensive and infectious disorders.

Tobacco and Blindness.

The anti-tobacco society must have chuckled with glee at reading how Dr. Michael Foster told the members of the British Association that color blindness is the result of smokers sticking to the same kind of tobacco. The assertion, if true is sad; but the argument cuts both ways. If to smoke one tobacco produces defective vision, it seems at least not impossible that eyesight might be improved by the inhalation of a judicious variety of tobaccos. Physiologists have long deplored the fact that they had not the making of the human eye; they could suggest so many ways by which it might have been rendered more perfect than it is. Were it not for Dr. Foster's discovery it might have escaped them that there was probably a reason why the eye is incomplete. It was clearly because we have not hitherto been brought up on assorted tobaccos. But the man of the future will in infancy puff mild Turkish and proceed through returns, honeydew and negrohead, till at last he will find himself able to take, in very truth, a bird's eye view of the world. And even in this generation, there is no reason why the most purblind of the anti-tobaccoist should not by this means come to get rid of his obliquity of vision and see things as most other people do.—St. James Gazette.

Why the Tailor Lost.

Here is a case in which a learned judge has decided a suit on the commonsense principle of ocular evidence which is becoming so fashionable in our new law courts. This particular suit hung on the fit of a coat and a pair of trousers. The plaintiff sued the tailor for a sum he had paid for the suit, on the ground that it was a misfit. The tailor denied the base impeachment on his sartorial skill. But the plaintiff brought the clothes into court and was ordered by the judge to put the coat on. The judge and the usher examined the coat critically and the judge declared that the tailor "had not made a suit which any gentleman could wear," and gave the verdict for the plaintiff without even troubling him to change his trousers.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Richard Lightowler Wilkinson, a carpenter, was walking along the banks of coaly Tyne, one evening, when he saw a gentleman stagger and fall into the river. He rescued him. This event occurred in 1882. The gentleman died recently, and left Wilkinson the handsome sum of £25,000 in property. The curious part of the case is that Wilkinson only received five shillings after the rescue, and the usual courteous formalities on such occasions.
